The Lexington Transcript of last week jumps on Judge Cole, of the Maysville district, rough shod, and accuses him of not,performing his duties as Circuit Judge of Rowan county. The attack is an unjust one, for as an officer of the law, just one, for as an officer of the law, there is not a more rigid prosecutor in Kentucky. The writer had the pleasure of casting his first vote for Judge Cole, and knows him to be a gentleman of fine intellect, pure motives, tearless as a lion, and will do his duty in every somes of the word. To the Voters of Washington Precinct: A vote will be taken at the August election as to whether, or not liquor shall again be sold in this preemt. In view of these things, let every man who loves peace, quiet and all the man who was peace, quiet and a new the community, give the ville monster a threat by voting to keep rum with all its attendant evils out of our town.

DON'T KICK.

Here's a piece of advice 1'll give you, hub, Old man, old woman or chick; No matter what comes, no matter what go Don't permit yourselves ever to kick.

If the world as it gravely goes lagging along Throws the thorns in your path fast and thick. Dodge all that you can and step on the rest. But, of all things, I pray you, don't kick.

If you throw yourself into political strife,
And get hit with a political brick,
You will show your good sense by holdin
your jaw
And never once making a kick.

If you pay for a winning and draw out blank e other chap makes the thing And some other chap makes the thing stick, just swallow the dose like a good little man And for heaven's sake don't make a kick.

Take things as they come, they'll be bright in the end; If you are hungry, rich, beggar or sick, You'll only be wasting your valuable time If you use it in making a kick.

And if in the end when you pass in your checks
You're gobbled right up by Old Nick
And go where they've lots of fire and no dirink.
You'll be a darn fool if you kick.

JIMMIE LYNCH, Charlie Carr and George Wallingford started to Manchester Sunday morning in a skiff. While pulling along near the mouth of Cabin Creek they discovered the dead body of a white infant in the water. It was enclosed in a sack, and gave evidence of having been in the water several days. Decomposition had set in. The young men brought it to this city that evening on their return from Manchester, and Justice Wesley Vicroy held an inquest on the remains.
Dr. McNut examined the corpse, but no marks of violence were found. There was no evidence to show that the infant had been born alive. Neither is there any claim as to its parentage. The remains were interred by Q. A. Means &

BUREIKA'S FORTUNE Likely to Escheat to the State

Likely to Scenea to the State. The probability now is that the State of Kentucky will receive from $100,000 to $150,000 by reason of the killing of "Dutch Henry" by Lutter Ricketts near the Lower Blue Licks, in Robertson County, on the 14th instant. The particulars of the killing and the subsequent trial and acquital of young Ricketts are still fresh in the minds of our readers. At the time of the shooting, Burelia was said to be worth between $50,000 and $100,000. Later estimates from Mt. Olivet, At the time of the shooting, Bureika was said to be worth between $50,000 and $100,000. Later estimates from Mt. Olivet, however, place his wealth at nearer $150-000. Including the property on which he had claims and mortgages, his real-estate amenuts to about 1,000 acres. The Mt. Olivet Tribune says his farms are all well improved, have good buildings, are well fenced and look clean and neat, They extend from Bee Lick to a point in Fleming County, a distance of six miles. At the time of his death, Bureika had between $8,000 and $10,000 worth of live

At the time of his death, Bureika had between $5,000 and $10,000 worth of live stock grazing on his lands. His other property consists of cash government bonds, and notes, stocks, &c. Bureika left no children—his marriage with, "Dutch Mary" having been fruit-less. Neither had he any relatives, so far as known at present. He tame to this country at seventeen years of age from Prussia and if he had any relatives in the old country, nothing has ever been heard of them. He may have kin in Prussia, but, if he has, they are resting in blissful ignorance of the big fortune that awaits them.

In view of the likelihood that he left no heirs, and that his estate will escheat to that awaits them.

In view of the likelihood that he left no heirs, and that his estate will eacheat to the Commonwealth. State Auditor Fayette Hewitt has appointed David Willson, the banker at Fleeningsburg, his agent for Robertson County to take control of the property. W. A. Suddeth was appointed Mr. Willson's attorney—and they qualified in the County Court of Robertson, last week. Hon. O. S. Deming and a party named Cleaver have been appointed administrators. Last week two young fellows from Dayton, Ky., wanted to have themselves appointed administrators, claiming they were heirs, but it was found on investigation that they were nephews of Dutch Mary, and their request was denied. They will hardly succeed in making good their claims to the property. This is the situation at present. The tyrobability is that the property will escheat to the State. A claimant may turn up any day, however, but if such an event should occur. long 2litigation would likely result unless the proofs of his claim were strong, and conclusive.
